W. HOWIE, arrived on Monday's stage from Tacoma, Washington, U. S. A. Mr. Howie left Edmonton about three years ago and has been in Australia and on the Pacific coast on both sides of the line since. Tacoma and the other Puget Sound cities are still going ahead, but real estate business is flattening a little in Tacoma.

FROM a private letter it is learned that Annie, daughter of Rev. Geo. H. Long, recently Methodist minister at Edmonton, but now of Boissevain, Manitoba, was nearly killed by falling down a stairway recently. She suffered a severe injury on the head and for some days her life was despaired of. She was not quite two years old.

AT a meeting of the Edmonton board of trade held Thursday night it was decided to engage Mr. McCauley to secure suitable samples of grains, grasses and vegetables to be placed on exhibition by the C. P. R. as agreed by land commissioner Hamilton. No decision was reached as to sending an agent east with the samples to attend the fall fairs.

THE Chicago Graphic of August 23rd has views of four of the new steel cruisers recently built for the United States navy; views of the interior fittings of an Atlantic liner or ocean greyhound, an encampment of Indiana militia, and reproductions of a number of fine paintings; Death of Archimedes, A summer landscape and the Votive church, Maximilian place, Vienna.

Clearing on Tuesday. Warm and calm throughout. Threatening and windy on Tuesday night, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. Clear, calm and warm to-day.

THE Dominion Illustrated of August 23rd has photos of Douglas Brynner, keeper of the records at Ottawa, and J. Hunter Duxar, post of Prince Edward Island, the old fort at Chaudiere, Quebec, Gaspé fishing scenes, regatta at St. Lambert, prairie chicken shooting in Manitoba and rifle shooting at Cape St. Luc. The cover reproduces a splendid painting, "The Jolly old fiddler."

IT is a fact worthy of the most careful attention of every one interested in the agricultural development of the Northwest that while August frosts have this season visited Minnesota, Dakota and Manitoba, south and north of latitude 49. Mr. McConnell of the geological survey, who was operating on the lower Athabasca this season chiefly north of latitude 57, reports that he saw no frost during the month of August. Last season Mr. McConnell was operating a little farther south in the same region and also reports having seen no frost. From this it would appear that on most frosts do not depend so much upon latitude as upon other influences.

THE shooting season opened on Monday and although the weather was very unpleasant full advantage was taken of the fact. Whether as a result of the better observance of the game ordinance this season or not, ducks are more numerous than they have been for years. They are also far less difficult to approach which shows unmistakably the favorable influence of the observance of the game ordinance.

TWO of the Montana mining party who set out last spring for Peace river arrived on Monday from the Landing on their way to Calgary for more supplies. They lost four of their horses and mules and nearly all their provisions and outfit in going down the Pembina. The remainder of the party with the remaining stock and outfit are camped at the mouth of Lesser Slave river, awaiting the return of these two from Calgary. They are bound to get to Peace River, cost what it may, but they might have taken a much cheaper and easier plan of getting there.

WARRBURN M. PIKE, of British Columbia, who went north last summer to hunt musk oxen on the Barren Grounds northeast of Great Slave lake is reported by R. G. McConnell to have had excellent success last winter, having killed over 30 oxen. This summer he is engaged with Jas. McKinlay of the H. B. Co. at Fort Resolution in exploring the Great Fish river, which takes its rise near the north eastern extremity of Great Slave lake and flows through the Barren Grounds to the Arctic ocean. The last accounts of their movements were brought in by one of their men who had deserted there because they were short of provisions. Mr. Pike is the first traveller who has made a success of hunting musk oxen, although several have made the attempt.

H. ANTHONY, arrived from the north on Monday last. He has been employed during the past summer on the H. B. steamer Athabasca. The steamer made two trips to the Grand Rapids and one up the Lesser Slave river about 16 miles. Finding only fourteen inches of water she was unable to proceed further up. On her first trip to Grand Rapids she took 147 tons, and 143 tons up Slave river. She was hauled out of the water at Athabasca Landing early in August. The water was at a good stage in the Athabasca all summer. Mr. Anthony left for the Landing on Friday, whence, in company with C. Paquette, lately in the employ of Elmore Bros., he will start for Fort Rae on the northerly arm of Great Slave lake, intending to hunt musk oxen on the Barren Grounds along the Coppermine river during the coming winter.

THE Northwest government is distributing posters warning against the kindling of prairie and forest fires. The law prohibits under a penalty of $200 and costs the direct or indirect kindling or placing of fire in the open air in any part of the Territories except for camp or for domestic purposes or for clearing land in the months of December, January, February or March; and enacts that any person who kindles or is a party to kindling a fire for any of the above purposes and allows such fire to escape, shall be liable on conviction to a penalty of $100 and costs of prosecution. Any person may at any time kindle a fire if he has present during the whole time of burning six persons with proper appliances for putting out such fires or (without such assistance) inside a ploughed break not less than ten feet wide. North of township 30 fires may be kindled for clearing purposes during the month of April also.

C. CHRISTENSEN, Iver Kleven and Carl Corliussen, of Pembina county, North Dakota, and S. G. Stevenson of Red Deer arrived on Wednesday looking for land. The three first named gentlemen are from a Norwegian settlement in Pembina county, where they have resided about seven years. During those seven years they have had only two good crops and have become tired of fighting against adverse conditions. On their way north from Calgary they visited the Icelandic settlement on the Little Red Deer, the members of which are also from Dakota. The Icelanders have had hard luck this year as their crops have been injured by frost, but the colony is being strengthened by new arrivals from Dakota. At Calgary frost had done very little injury but from about twenty miles out of Calgary to within twenty miles of Edmonton the frost of the night of August 15th had left its mark. At Edmonton the crops were better than they had been in any part of their journey from Dakota. They started on an excursion through the Little Mountain and Sturgeon river settlements on Thursday and will visit many plains before leaving.

Calgary Tribune August 27th: Mr. Jas. Thompson, of the H. B. Co., has just returned from a two weeks' trip to Edmonton and the north country. He reports crops in the Edmonton district as particularly good and equal to anything he ever saw during a long residence in Manitoba. They have not had any touch of frost as yet, and ten days more of fine weather will see their large crop harvested.

R. G. MCCONNELL, of the geological survey arrived from the north on Monday. Mr. McConnell has been employed during the summer in exploring the country on the west side of the Athabasca river between the Grand rapids and Lake Athabasca, the great petroleum region. His explorations were chiefly made by following up the many streams which fall into the Athabasca on its west side to their heads in the Birch hills, and also following along the north shore of Lake Athabasca to Willow point, where further progress eastward was prevented by ice in the lake. This was in the early part of July. The spring was very backward in the Athabasca region and the season very dry indeed so that the crop attempted to be raised at Chipewyan on a point in the lake was a failure. In exploring near the Birch mountains Mr. McConnell came on the trail of several wood buffalo, of which there are said by the Indians to be a band of seven in that region. He did not see the animals. Mr. McConnell left for Calgary and Ottawa on Thursday's stage.

W. JOHNSTONE WALKER, returned from a visit to Scotland on Monday's stage. Mr. Walker's visit was on business and pleasure combined. He had a most enjoyable trip from Montreal to Liverpool, the weather being most favorable, but found the weather in England and Scotland quite the contrary, continuous wet weather preventing the grain from ripening and making a good harvest almost impossible. Haymaking was progressing most unfavorably. Notwithstanding the bad agricultural prospects for the season, business seemed to be good and a feeling of confidence prevailed. Even the agricultural classes seemed to be well content, with very little desire to try their fortunes in foreign countries or the colonies, owing greatly to the improvement in the relations between landlords and tenants in recent years. Reports from the favorite foreign and colonial fields of investment of capital were unfavorable. The gold mining boom in the Transvaal, South Africa, had collapsed and many of the companies had been wound up. Australia and New Zealand were passing through a period of financial depression, and the Argentine republic had of course ceased to offer inducements. In view of these facts and the good credit both public and private maintained by Canada, this country was being looked upon with much greater favor than ever before. The return trip across the Atlantic was much less favorable than that going out. Mr. Walker found in passing through the Eastern provinces of Canada on the way home that the Edmonton district was attracting a great deal of favorable attention and was coming to be generally regarded as the best part of the Northwest, an idea which he took pains to impress as being correct.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

SUCCESS.

The pursuits and inclinations of mankind all tend to the acquisition of power, if not to that of predominant rule and sway, at least power of self control and independent action. Success is sought for and fought for, in every manner and by every means—in riches, in rank, in station, in knowledge, by fame, by open bravado and boldness, by artful cunning and submission, by pen, by sword, by trumpet and by tool. To be successful is a perfectly laudable ambition and we confess to a little ambition ourselves, but our ambition has not been of an extravagant character. We have simply sought to place before Farmers of Edmonton district the most Perfect Binding Twine obtainable and in the Blue Ribbon Brand we claim to have done so. It is in every respect a perfect twine and can be used with satisfaction on ANY MACHINE (or HINDER.)

EDMONTON BULLETIN, SEPT. 6, 1901

GOOD PROSPECTS.

L. A. Hamilton, land commissioner of the C. P. R. left on Tuesday for Winnipeg. He intended going through the Clover Bar settlement and Fort Saskatchewan to Victoria, and Fort Pitt. From Pitt he will go south to the Neutral hills, then westward up Battle river to the Selkirk settlement, then south-eastward by way of Sullivan's lake to Swift current. Mr. Hamilton's visit to Edmonton has caused a very great change in his opinions as to the respective agricultural merits of the several districts of Manitoba and the Northwest. He was under the impression that Edmonton was at or perhaps a little beyond the northwestern limit of agriculture on the continent, that around, or at any rate immediately beyond, it lay a region of muskeg or morass, which was the cause, together with the northerly latitude, of ever recurring summer frosts. He found a region of beauty and fertility having no rival in these particulars combined of like area in the whole vast range of the Canadian west. He found a luxuriance of growth in the wild vegetation such as he had no where else seen in the whole course of his travels, and he saw crops of wheat, oats and barley standing ripe in the fields or falling before the binders such as he had never seen equalled for yield or surpassed for quality any where. In the growth of roots and the hardy vegetables he is confident that the Edmonton district does and can beat the world. Most surprising of all he found that while frost had touched the grain in many of the most favored spots of Manitoba, and even immediately south of Edmonton one and two hundred miles, here the grain was still uninjured; and he further found that this was not an isolated case, but that taking the last ten years frost had visited this district less frequently and less destructively than Manitoba. And he further found that instead of Edmonton being at the limit, the extreme verge, of the agricultural area of the Northwest it was rather at the beginning, the gateway, of an unknown extent of country whose climate soil and conditions make it most suitable for mixed farming. Hitherto the C. P. R. company have concentrated their efforts towards inducing immigration to the region along their main line and its Manitoba branches. But now on account of the interest which the C. P. R. has recently acquired in this region through its connection with the Calgary & Edmonton railway as well as through the large part of its main line grant which has been selected, or is in process of being selected, in this quarter of the Northwest, the Edmonton district will receive its full share of the attentions of the railway company and every reasonable effort will be made to place its great and varied attractions before the public of Eastern Canada, the United States, the British Islands and the countries of northern Europe. Mr. Hamilton is particularly anxious to have samples of the grains and grasses of the district of this year's growth placed on exhibition at the various fall fairs shortly to be held throughout eastern Canada, if that is possible. He undertakes to place suitable samples which may be sent him, properly put up and marked, in the C. P. R. exhibition car which makes a tour of the eastern provinces and some of the States every winter and will also place samples on exhibition in the company's agencies in Montreal, New York and London. If the district will send a practical farmer with the samples to attend the eastern fairs he will give him transportation free, and for the samples sent to be placed on exhibition elsewhere there will be no charge after they reach Calgary. Samples of grains and grasses should be pulled by the roots, carefully put up and marked with the name of the grower and the number of his section as well as the name of the district. If they are consigned to Mr. Hamilton's care in Winnipeg he will sort and distribute them according to his best judgment, and will guarantee that they will be credited to Edmonton and not to any other section of the country. This is an opportunity for advertising the district that has never before occurred, and should be taken full advantage of.

As soon as the Calgary and Edmonton railway is completed it will be operated by the C. P. R. and Edmonton will be included in the points to which farmers excursions will be run. Mr. Hamilton considers that no fears need be entertained as to the surplus produce which will be raised here reaching market once the railway is completed. Although the distance to Port Arthur is so great the railway will haul the grain and other produce at rates which will leave a fair profit to the farmer. But he considers that our best market for flour, stall fed cattle and dairy produce will be the Pacific coast. An immense market for flour is opening up in China and Japan and already enormous quantities of Oregon flour are shipped to those countries by the C. P. R. steamers. That flour might just as well come from Edmonton as Oregon. The range cattle of the Pacific coast are always in poor condition in the spring, and therefore fat cattle will always have to import for that season of the year at least.

D. L. CLINK, Indian farm instructor at Bears' hill returned from Battleford on Wednesday. The circumstances of the case which were brought out at the trial were exactly as stated by Mr. Clink before leaving Edmonton and as appeared in the BULLETIN. He was of course promptly discharged. The accusation was laid against him by the man Savard mentioned by the BULLETIN, who did not know the full effect of what he was asked to do. Mr. Clink has been put to great inconvenience and expense by this atrocious action, having to pay his own expenses back from Battleford. How the matter is looked at in Battleford may be judged from the following address, which was presented just before Mr. Clink left for home:

BATTLEFORD, AUGUST 28TH, 1890.

D. L. CLINK, Esq.

SIR:—We cannot let you leave Battleford without giving expression to the sympathy we have for you in the trouble that has been laid at your door. Your having been arrested on a charge of uttering a forged document and brought as a prisoner upwards of three hundred miles to find on the charge being investigated that not only no evidence of your guilt could be produced but that there was absolutely no foundation whatever for the charge, the same having evidently been made only with a view of causing you annoyance and expense, makes us believe this trouble has been foisted upon you and we trust it may not be possible for the like to cross your path again. We know you derive no satisfaction from the fact that you return to your duties free from the charge which was laid against you; but if the real sympathy of the citizens of the town in which you were so long a leading member is of any use to you believe that you have that in the truest sense of the word. We wish you a safe return home and prosperity in future.

The address was signed by Jas. Clinkskill, M. L. A. and 63 others, including all the prominent men of the place.

The Calgary Herald of August 20th ventures the opinion that the BULLETIN is ignorant and a blackguard. The Herald is welcome to its opinions; which resemble those of other lunatics in that it fancies it sees in others the vagaries peculiar to itself. The Herald asserts positively that its kick regarding the C. & E. terminus was not away behind time. It certainly was not for lack of dullness or slowness on the Herald's part if it was not. However, it may settle the matter of being before or behind time with deputy minister of interior Burgess, who recently expressed a good deal of contempt for the Herald's kick, or with the official of the interior department who is a principal in what the Herald is pleased to intimate would be "an outrage of the grossest and most detestable character," or with those who were deluded into putting their money into its stock in the hope that they would through it be able to wield a profitable influence on public affairs.

The Chicago Graphic speaking of farmers' political organizations in the United States which now number 3,000,000 members, says: The agricultural grievance is that the bulk of federal legislation is for the benefit of the manufacturing, financial and mercantile interests of the country, while the farmers are becoming more and more impoverished.

The burden of the farmers' complaint is that their own industry suffers from unjust laws which they allege discriminate in favor of class legislation, including trusts and combines, special manufactures, bankers, brokers, railroads, speculators and others whose interests they declare do not harmonize with farming, and they hope to have all class legislation repealed.

At a meeting held in Berlin, Ontario, by Wm. Miller, immigration agent for Prince Albert, the fact was developed that the Mennonites who had settled in Manitoba had repaid the advances made in their behalf by the Mennonites of the County of Waterloo, Ontario, while those of Dakota had not owing to crop failure. Of all the Mennonite settlements in Manitoba Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Missouri and Texas, none had done as well as those of Manitoba.

L. A. Hamilton land commissioner of the C. P. R. recently visited Calgary. After consultation with the town council that body decided to place $150 at the disposal of the committee on immigration and Mr. Fitzgerald representing the C. P. R. for the purpose of procuring proper agricultural exhibits to be sent forward to eastern exhibitions, provided two or three suitable delegates would volunteer to accompany and look after said exhibits.

The taxation is to be limited to one and a quarter cents on the dollar, and the property of the Northwestern coal & navigation company and the Alberta railway and coal company are to be exempt from municipal taxation, not including school taxes, for 20 years. THE RAILWAY.

The Calgary and Edmonton railway is booming right along. Graders were at work about five miles north of Scarlett's, that is 45 miles from Calgary, when the last stage passed, and an outfit of twenty cars belonging to Mann Bros and McKenzie and Keith from the Regina & Long lake railway arrived in Calgary the day before the stage left. When this outfit got to work it would string the graders out at least as far as the Lone Pine, 95 miles from Calgary. The plan for the Bow bridge is driven, and track was about to be laid to the bridge. Tracklayers were being hired in Calgary at $1.75 a day and $2 for spikers. They were on hand, but rails had not arrived. The grading from the north bank of the Bow to Steele's contract is not yet finished, but will be in about ten days, when Ladlow's work will start for the Red Deer. There was a small gap in the grade at Dixon's stopping place and other gaps north of the Bow bridge, but within two days there will be at least 35 miles of the grade ready for the track. The locating party are still working near Barnett's not having made the progress expected in getting away from the Blind Man.

GENERAL.

Medicine Hat hospital has three cases of typhoid.

It is proposed to establish a horse fair at Macleod.

Horse stealing is a booming industry in Montana at present.

A slight shock of earthquake was felt at Kamloops, B. C. on August 23rd.

Over 35,000 tons of ore were shipped from Fort Arthur in one week recently.

The bank of Montreal is about to erect a stone and brick building in Regina.

Regina Leader and Editor Mr. Fisher's crop is already in most places fit to cut.

Regina voted down a $22,000 debt for water for drainage and waterworks recently.

Slight frost occurred in districts outlying from Montreal on the night of August 15th.

A block of Lethbridge coal weighing a ton will occupy a space in the C. P. R. Alberta exhibit car.

Potatoe blight is said to be spreading in Ireland, and fears of famine in the poorer districts are entertained.

J. T. Stenshorn, government immigration agent at Regina, has been sent on an immigration mission to Dakota.

Cattle for the English market have been purchased recently near Morden, Manitoba, at $1.15 cents live weight.

Calgary has finally decided to accept and pay for the 2,000 copies of the Calgary number of the Dominion Illustrated.

The Prince Albert terminus of the Regina & Long lake railway has been located on river lot 16, with yards to the west.

The Calgary Tribune mentions the death of a child "after a very slight illness." What is the effect of a severe illness on children?

The Morden, Manitoba, Monitor says that harvesting was expected to start there on August 11th but two days' rain delayed operations.

There is great danger of a famine in Ireland owing to potato blight, which is now found to be general and the failure of the crop total.

Operations have been stopped on the Brandon branch of the C. P. R. and the N. P. & M. S. Morris extensions have hitherto failed to materialize.

The oft-mentioned sections in the Icelandic reserve on lake Winnipeg have been thrown open for homestead entry as well as purchase by Icelandic settlers until January 1st, 1900.

The Hamilton Spectator thinks that Messrs Reid and Heddon of fur stealing notoriety should follow the illustrious example set by Messrs. Middleton and Rykert and resign.

The Waterloo farmers who visited Calgary recently thought that they will get the Prince Albert on their return from Calgary.

They stop off at Moose Jaw, Indian Head and Qu'Appelle as well.

Calgary sent three immigration agents east last spring on C. P. R. pass and agents three more this fall to attend the various fall fairs. But three of the fall fairs are Sam Livingston's, Geo. Hamilton's and Jas. Kelly town councillor.

The Medicine Hat Times says that Mr. Kern of the steam boiler reports that white late sown grain is a complete failure, but that settlement fall sown and early spring sown grain is a fair crop. The report that sown grain is a fair crop is undoubtedly true. The majority will put in at least another crop.

Harvesting began at Jamestown, North Dakota, on August 7th. There will not be more than a third of a crop of wheat. That slight threatened shows great shortage in the berry. Hay crops are affected. The berries more than was supposed. If the state grain 20,000,000 bushels it will require more than one stone of berries. In South Dakota, wheat which is not yet cut, and many fields will not be cut, the straw being too short.

The C. P. R. gives no excursion rate for the Toronto exhibition this year.

The Canada Gazette of August 16th contains the appointments of W. C. Hamilton, Regina and C. C. McCaul, Fort Macleod as Queen's counsel.

Brandon recently rejected a by-law to raise $45,000 for a new school building. Manitoba people are not so fresh about incurring debts as they once were. The financial example of Emerson has had its good effect.

At one time it was thought the Manitoba Northwestern railway was likely to become part of the N. P. & M. system. It appears that instead it has practically become part of the C. P. R. system as it exchanges freight with that road on more favorable terms than with the N. P. & M.

Brandon's great commercial journal of the United States reports that over 50 per cent of the wheat of Manitoba was harvested before the frost and a large proportion of the standing grain is practically unharmed. Slight damage is done to late grain at a few points, but the anticipated yield will not be materially affected.

The London Daily News, leading organ of the British liberals, says that the blunk plainly shows the pitiful apathy of which Secretary Balfour has been reduced in his attempt to justify the high handed proceedings of his countrymen in the waters of Behring Sea. The American claim, it asserts, is repugnant to common sense.

A newspaper item states that a British and Canadian company which includes Sir John A. Macdonald and Sir Charles Tupper amongst its members has purchased 50,000 acres of timbered iron and coal land in McDowell county, West Virginia, and will build a branch railroad and town. The same company has purchased land in Wyoming, Oregon and adjoining counties.

The Calgary Tribune of August 27th says: Teams have been in the country for the last few days gathering up produce to send out in the exhibition car, and very good samples are being found, but they are hardly ripe enough to suit to best advantage. A week later will certainly have been much better, but still the exhibit will be very creditable, and one of which no country need be ashamed.

Winnipeg correspondence of Toronto Empire: Jean Baptiste Boucher, who has just returned from Mackenzie river district, states that last winter there was great suffering at Fort Laird. Thirteen men died of starvation, and quite a number perished the winter previous. Parties were sent out to canvass around Fort Nelson, and so weak were the men from their privations that they had to be carried, being unable to walk themselves. They had lived on squibs and very few potatoes, and were nearly dead when the party reached Fort Nelson. This suffering has been prevalent throughout nearly all the far north, and the Indians have been so weak in consequence that they have been unable to do their customary amount of trapping, so that the country looks last winter instead of the regular 200 beaver skins being brought in, only thirty were trapped.
